Anglesey 10-12th May - Planning Update

It may seem a long time away but May will soon come round. Hotel rooms also fill up quickly so I need to do some initial planning for the weekend. Nick Shaw and I are doing a recce of potential sites w/e 16th-17th March. Subject to what we find, the outline for the trip is to visit sites on the SW Facing coast area on Saturday 11th and NW Coast Sunday 12th, finishing at Parys Mountain. It's proposed that we travel Friday evening and stay at the Bangor Travelodge Friday 10th and Holyhead Travelodge Saturday 11th. Staying together makes coordinating transport much easier and also gives us the opportunity to discuss what we find (or hope to find!) in the field.

Hotel costs are: Bangor £54 flexible (i.e. we can cancel) or £38 non refundable. Holyhead: £57 or £40. (All per room, excluding breakfast)

I'm happy to make bookings on your behalf or you can book direct. So long as I know! Either way, I'll be making provisional bookings at the end of January.

This promises to be a great weekend so I look forwards to hearing from you that you can attend. Thanks, Bob.
